

Three Wise Kangaroos

Expressions with house and home

House or home? Complete the sentences with either house or home, then match the expressions with their meaning.

- We've just bought a new apartment and we are having a _____ warming party next Friday. You are more than welcome to join us.
- This is _____ made jam. My grandma made it using the strawberries from her garden.
- My wife is so _____ proud, which can be annoying because she can't stand the smallest mess and I'm not exactly the tidiest person on the planet.
- I quite enjoyed _____ economics classes in secondary school.
- It's the restaurant's 20th anniversary so the drinks are on the _____.
- The accident made her paralysed and she's been _____ bound ever since.
- I'm afraid we don't have any tickets for the evening performance. It's a full _____ tonight.
- When I travel to visit my cousin in Australia, it's like a _____ away from _____. I feel great there and I don't miss England in the slightest.

Now, match the house/home expressions with their meaning.

| | |
|--|--|
| | unable to leave one's home, especially due to illness |
| | at the (bar/restaurant) management's expense, free |
| | a field of study which combines such disciplines as consumer science, nutrition, parenting, family economics and resource management, etc. |
| | a get-together held to celebrate moving into a new house or flat |
| | made by oneself at home |
| | a place where one feels as happy and comfortable as at home |
| | a situation in which every seat in a cinema/theatre/concert is filled |
| | excessively concerned with tidiness and cleanliness |