

IELTS - linking - ANSWER KEY

Answer key- POSSIBLE ANSWERS

THIS ANSWER KEY ONLY OFFERS SUGGESTIONS ON HOW THE SENTENCES COULD BE FINISHED.

1. Some people believe success depends on hard work, whereas others argue that luck and personal connections play a bigger role in achieving goals.
2. Not enough emphasis is put on the rehabilitation of prisoners. Consequently, many former inmates struggle to reintegrate into society and often re-offend.
3. A lot of people believe money can buy happiness. However, financial wealth does not guarantee emotional well-being or strong relationships.
4. Technology can benefit students as long as it is used responsibly and does not replace critical thinking or social interaction.
5. On the one hand, giving a child an electronic device seems like a great idea for keeping them entertained. On the other hand, it can reduce physical activity and social engagement.
6. A lot of people nowadays don't have a very healthy lifestyle. As a result, rates of obesity, diabetes, and heart disease are increasing globally.
7. We have numerous channels of communication these days, for instance, emails, instant messaging apps, social media platforms, and video calls.
8. While online education offers flexibility, it may lack the social interaction and hands-on experience found in traditional classrooms.
9. Several environmental problems need urgent attention, namely air pollution, deforestation, water scarcity, and climate change.
10. Many young people struggle to find stable employment. As a consequence, they often experience financial insecurity and delayed independence.
11. Some people argue that university education should be free. Nevertheless, governments may struggle to fund free universities without raising taxes..
12. Governments are investing heavily in renewable energy. As a result, the reliance on fossil fuels is gradually decreasing, reducing greenhouse gas emissions.
13. People are becoming increasingly dependent on technology; for example, many cannot complete simple tasks without using a smartphone or computer.
14. Public transport is often unreliable in large cities. Therefore, many commuters choose to drive, increasing traffic congestion and pollution.
15. Fast food is cheap and widely available. However, excessive consumption contributes to health problems such as obesity and heart disease.
16. More people are choosing to live alone in modern societies. Meanwhile, social isolation and loneliness have become more common.

IELTS - linking - ANSWER KEY

17. Some countries have strict environmental laws. In contrast, others lack regulations, leading to rapid environmental degradation.

18. Children spend more time indoors than in the past. Consequently, they often suffer from vitamin D deficiency and reduced physical fitness.

19. Although public transport is often cheaper than private cars, many people still prefer driving because it offers flexibility and convenience.

20. While the idea of living forever appeals to a lot of people, it raises ethical questions and may not guarantee a fulfilling life.

21. In order to stop the degradation of the environment, governments all over the globe must make serious commitments to act on climate change. Furthermore, individuals must also adopt sustainable practices such as reducing waste and conserving energy.

22. To a lot of people, home-schooling seems a better alternative to standard education. To my mind, it can be effective if parents provide structure and social opportunities for their children.

23. Over-reliance on technology will lead to various problems, namely reduced attention span, social isolation, and diminished critical thinking skills.

24. A lot of people will argue that art and music don't equal sciences in importance. Personally, I believe they are equally valuable for developing creativity and cultural awareness.

25. Many people feel very lonely and disconnected these days. Ironically, social media, which is meant to connect people, sometimes worsens feelings of isolation.

26. A lot of effort is made to keep people informed about cybercrime. Still, many individuals remain unaware of simple precautions to protect themselves online.

27. Even though a lot of people feel unhappy at work, they continue in the same job nonetheless due to financial obligations or lack of alternatives.