Introduction

Communicative Grammar is an e-book designed to help students test and apply their knowledge of English grammar and further practice it through a series of conversation-based activities. It gives the students an opportunity to revise the grammar they already know and reinforce it by doing stimulating activities and discussing a wide variety of engaging topics that are relevant to them. All the activities are context-based and relatable for students to encourage genuine communication and exchange of information. The activities all require the students to first reflect on their grammar and fill in gaps or choose the correct form before answering questions or taking part in a discussion, a class debate or a roleplay.

The e-book is organised into grammatical categories and includes 55 units and over 500 questions/discussion points. Each unit concentrates on a particular grammar aspect and some aspects are covered in more than one unit. The material is not organised according to level of difficulty and does not have to be followed in any particular order so you can pick and choose whatever content best suits your needs.

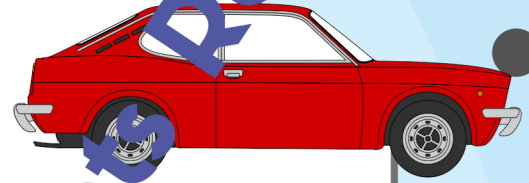

The e-book is a practical workbook aimed at both teachers and independent learners of English. If you are an autonomous student, use this e-book as a great way of organising your grammar. It will allow you to test, revise, learn and practise your grammar and ultimately help you improve your accuracy in English. You can use the questions from the communicative part to practise speaking with fellow students of English or you can simply record yourself answering the questions and later on listen to the recordings for any errors.

If you are a teacher of English, use this e-book as a great resource pack to supplement your courses. You can pick and choose from a variety of activities, depending on your and your students' needs. The e-book is aimed at B1, B2 and C1 students and you can use it for pair work, group work, class discussions and debates and one-on-one lessons. It's suitable for both online and face-to-face classes.
